

Paz by Adrien Lochon and Fraser Parker eBook DOWNLOAD

Paz is from the creative minds of Adrien Lochon and Fraser, and is an ingenious way of divining the star sign of a spectator whom you have only just met.

They simply tell you which areas of their life they would like you to focus on during their reading; Involving Past, Present and Future aspects of their life, specifically.

You are always able to not only give an accurate reading of the spectator, but to always end your demonstration with a perfectly clean divination of their exact star sign!

No letters or characteristics are named, and nothing is written down or physically selected.

Paz relies on a method that is 100% mechanical and sure fire. It is entirely without props, and uses words within the context of giving a reading to your spectator, to make it work. It is entirely conversational in nature, which makes this perfect for performers who wish to perform in a way that will appear realistic for everyone watching.

Paz fits perfectly the type of "method equals effect" approach that has become a hallmark of previous prop less releases on the intuition label. It is ingenious in its simplicity and more importantly, it looks and feels exactly how it would if it were real. Paz enables you to WOW your audience!
