Here's a great 'Any Card At Any Number' for stage and parlor performers.

The performer asks someone to name a suit. The performer then gives them a note pad and a pen to write down all the choices, starting with their own.

The performer then moves to the other side of the stage and asks someone to name a number between 1 and 52 and then asks another person to name a number between 1 and 10.

Next, the performer invites one of the participants to deal the cards. Astonishingly, the named card lies at the named number!
