An impossible prediction!

You set a prediction onto the table in plain site. A spectator has a free choice of any face up card. It is a truly free choice! When the prediction is turned over it says "Your Card" The audience thinks it is a funny joke but when you turn their chosen card over the words "Your Card" is seen on the back of the freely chosen selection as well. For the finale the rest of the cards can be shown freely to prove there are no other words written on the backs of them and that their free choice was not so free after all.

- Cards can be examined
- Instant set up
- Very easy to perform
