This is classic effect but performed in a new way with a big surprise. Just imagine, you place one card face-down on the table without showing its identity. Then after cutting the deck in a cool way, two cards appear, two queens. The audience begin to believe that the face-down card is another queen. But when the magician finds the last card is a ten, not a queen. After a dramatic pause, the face-down card is revealed to show that in fact is not a queen nor a ten but an ace. When all points to a big mistake, the magician transform clearly the ten into an ace. Then, clearly the two queens that are face-up on the table transform visually into the aces.
