

Bond by Thinking Paradox - Video - DOWNLOAD

Link two borrowed rings, visibly and without any switches.

- The two rings are genuinely borrowed and they are always in plain sight.
- There are no switches or duplicates.
- Everything happens in plain sight without hiding anything.
- You can link and unlink them as many times as you want.
- It's perfect for parlor performances, but you can present it up close with careful attention to angles.
- You will learn 2 handlings for different situations.
- It's very easy to do and always ready.
- At the end, everything is examinable.
- No threads or magnets are used; the secret is very innovative.
- The gimmick is easy and inexpensive to make with household materials.
