

iSense by Thinking Paradox - Video - DOWNLOAD

What if you could perceive everything happening around you, even with your eyes covered by a spectator or sealed with adhesive tape?

At Thinking Paradox, we have always enjoyed simple, elegant, scientifically based methods. After our worldwide bestseller, Clear Choice, we are excited to present our latest creation: iSense. This is a 100% impromptu system for receiving information undetectably, without gimmicks, and with your eyes covered.

Learn 4 close-up and stage routines:

Imagined Prediction

You will be able to predict the word a spectator will choose among several named at random by other spectators-even before they think of it themselves! The prediction is in plain sight and never switched.

The Invisible Object

You will be able to visualize and describe or even draw in detail imaginary objects on the palm of a spectator's hand. No questions and no forces.

Spicy Russian Roulette

You will save your life-or rather, your stomach-by discovering where the world's spiciest sauce is hidden, disguised as tomato juice. All this with your eyes blindfolded and without even smelling it.

Telepathy with Flavors

With your eyes covered by adhesive tape and a spectator behind you, you will taste the flavor of a drink chosen among several at the exact moment the spectator tastes it.

Experience the extraordinary with iSense, where you can sense the impossible and leave your audience in awe!
