

Akronym (App) by Yves Doumergue and Conjuring Lab - DOWNLOAD

Impromptu, reliable, and phenomenal.

Imagine this: A spectator, Jade, rolls an imaginary die, and decides that the result is 3. Then, with her phone, she consults any Wikipedia article out of millions, for example The Beatles. She sees that there are links to other pages, in this case Liverpool, Rock, John Lennon, Album, etc... Then, she clicks on a link to navigate randomly from page to page; all her choices are noted down gradually.

For example:

- Majority
- Statistics
- Radio
- Species

The magician then circles the 3rd letter of each word, to reveal JADE.

Key Points:

- This is not an app! download, secretly install, or update.
- Completely original effect. You have never seen a similar effect, which allows you to stand out from other mentalists who mostly perform mind-reading.
- The phone is borrowed. In all circumstances, it only requires a spectator to have a phone with an internet connection.
- More is nothing to hide! No aid to perform. All actions are performed in front of the spectators. You never have to hide the phone screen, no NFC tag, QR code, or strange URL to secretly type. The spectator will suspect absolutely nothing.

- ~~Nothing in your pockets 7 min with you time.~~ even your own mobile phone. Whether you're in close-up, on stage, or in a situation where you didn't even plan to perform something, you have a 7-minute routine at your disposal.
- ~~Leave a personalized message for your spectators~~ and leave it as a souvenir.
- ~~Receive personalized revelation from a company~~ words chosen by different collaborators. It's the perfect effect!
- Visual effect.

Visual effects are always more memorable for spectators, but are unfortunately rare in mentalism. The final image of Akronym alone tells the story of the trick and its impossibility.

Akronym FAQ:

What will I receive?

Private and personal access to the Akronym system. It allows you to perform the routine on any borrowed smartphone. A quick video tutorial for immediate understanding, and a detailed video to present the psychological subtleties of the routine, presentation possibilities, etc... A manual that allows you to easily find the basic procedure to perform Akronym.

Does Akronym require secret preparation?

There is no secret preparation, and you don't even have to activate Akronym before you start.

Do I need to have my phone with me?

No, and you can even perform Akronym if you don't own a mobile phone (we know, it's unlikely).

Do I need to know the spectator's first name before starting Akronym?

No.

How can I ensure that everything is working well before/during the routine?

Throughout the performance, you receive feedback that assures you everything is working as you desire. This makes it a very comfortable routine to perform. No more anxiety about wondering if everything is working correctly.

In which language can I perform Akronym?

Currently, Akronym can be performed in English, French, Italian, German and Spanish.

Can I perform Akronym on TV or social media?

No, broadcasting rights are not included. If you intend to broadcast Akronym on any channel, please contact us directly.

"I use it in close-up situations and in my 2,000+ seat shows - that's how good it is!"

- Lior Suchard

"I love it!"

- Christian Grace

"That is literally incredible!"

- Lloyd Barnes

"That is sick. I love it!"

- Peter Turner

"Akronym checks all the boxes for me - practical, versatile, and devastating."

- Doug McKenzie

"Wait! What!? How!?! Sooooooo good! I was totally fooled by the performance" and I'm equally stunned by the method. 11 out of 10."

- Mark Elsdon

"This stuff is unbelievable".

- David Penn

"It is a closer in my show. Mind-blowingly good!"

- Chris Ramsay