Linking Bridge by Tybbe Master

This effect is really unique and different...

The corner of the spectator card is torn off and we make a hole. We take a special card and a straw which we will install through both folds of the card.

Then we take the corner piece of the spectator card, miraculously penetrate it and link it to the straw in the middle between the folds of the card! After that, the spectator can be satisfied checking it that the corner piece of the card really has no cuts, the straw is the same and even the folded card.

To prove that it is indeed a corner piece of the spectator card, the card piece can be immediately put together with the rest of the spectator card and it really fits and matches!
