Mors Vincit Omnia by Any Means Necessary - Pokerdeck

Mors Vincit Omnia translates to "Death Conquers All," and the artwork reflects each suit in its rotting appearance.

Our company, Any Means Necessary, is made up of Shawn Coss and Michael Nemitz, a clothing and art brand out of Ohio that is always looking to push the boundaries on what a brand is and should be.

Shawn, known best for his mental health series, Inktober Illness, and It's All in Your Head, recently decided that he wanted to tackle a more traditional series with a history that dates decades back. We've all played various games with traditional poker cards.

We didn't want to reinvent the wheel of the deck itself, but we wanted to put our spin on the artwork and concept of the traditional playing card.

We know you'll enjoy our very special deck!
