

Dave Forrest's Chip Reader

"That's brilliant!"

- Steve Faulkner

"It's fing clever! I'll use it!"

- Rodd Hogg

"That's wicked! That's awesome dude!"

- James Went

Chip Reader

is a custom designed set of 5 professional grade ceramic poker chips that will allow you to directly read minds.

Here's what happens:

You tip out 5 completely different poker chips from a small velvet bag. With your back turned, your participant freely chooses one - no procedure, no force - then holds the chip tightly in their hand. They keep the bag - you never touch it. Now you turn around and, while they think of their chosen chip, begin to identify details of the chip before correctly announcing the exact chip they are looking at.

Chip Reader is easy to do but it looks and feels like real mind reading.

- No peeks
- No forces
- No switches
- No apps
- Nothing written down
- Only 5 chips are used
- You need never touch the chips at all

Some unsolicited comments from genuine customers:

"Takes up very little room, no reset time and easy to do. This seems as if you are genuinely receiving someone's thoughts. Impossible to reconstruct. I know I WILL slay people with this. Dave Forrest has released a fantastic worker. Five stars!"

- Mike Donoghue (customer)

"Twenty minutes in and I bloody love it. Linguistic brilliance accompanied by extremely well thought out imagery. Hat's off to you for a job exceedingly well done! Highly recommended."

- Michael Wilson (customer)

"Arrived yesterday. Already sufficiently confident to perform it tonight. Great tutorial, as usual from Dave. Genius method. The chips look and feel superb. Another winner! 10/10 - Essential EDC!!!"

- Tim Hills (customer)

"Received 'Chip Reader' and I'm so impressed with the effect & thinking behind it! It's very well structured & routined to get a mind-blowing result with the spectator. I will compliment you on the instructions too...very thorough, clear & comprehensive. Awesome!"
