

Wizard Hat Tear by Andy Amyx

Effect

The magician displays two sheets of tissue paper and tears them into two different pieces giving two sheets to an audience volunteer who is instructed to tear their pieces just like the magician and magician says "We will restore our pieces together". The volunteer is left with several torn pieces but the magician takes their pieces and ads them to his & restores the paper to a Wizard Hat which is placed on the volunteer's head. These hat tears are large size which will fit an adult. So guarantee that these hats will have extra room to fit over a child's head, you may twist the back of the hat once on the child's head for a tighter fit.

Easy to use great give away and comes with instructions and basic routine. (12 hat tears in black with white stars)
