

The Stone by AB and DooSung Hwang

When you buy something, do you read the instructions? If you follow the instructions, an amazing prophecy comes true!

The Stone by AB & Doosung Hwang is an amazing magic trick in which the spectator freely chooses everything, but the choices are accurately predicted.

First, you give the spectator something and tell them to hold it tightly in their hand or put it in their pocket without looking at it. You then show them six beautiful stones and a pouch and ask them to check everything. Now you show four envelopes, take out the instructions written inside them, and read them together. The magician doesn't touch at all, and the audience does everything as written in the instructions. The spectator freely takes out three stones, chooses their favorite, and holds it tightly in their hand. Do you remember something you gave to the spectator at the beginning? Now take it out and check it, and the same stone has been predicted correctly!

One of the best things about The Stone is that it's so easy! There's absolutely no sleight of hand involved, and all you have to do is just follow the instructions. So you're free to focus on your performance. Plus, it's so much fun! The audience gets to choose everything themselves, so everyone has a blast, and the effect is incredibly powerful.

The Stone can be taken anywhere and is always ready for a casual performance. Not only that, but it's also very beautiful to display! Anyone who sees The Stone will immediately think it's very pretty and it will naturally attract everyone's attention. It's very portable and also looks beautiful on display at home or in a performance space, and it's great for spontaneous performances.

Another advantage is that The Stone is very easy to understand for people of all ages. The use of different stones makes it very intuitive, and the fact that you don't need to have a background in playing cards makes it fascinating for adults and children alike. It's literally a magic trick that all ages can enjoy!

The stones in The Stone are beautiful, but so are the performances. It starts with an intriguing question, "Do you ever read the instructions when you buy something for the first time?", which powerfully grabs the attention of any audience member.

It's a well-crafted magic trick done in a clever way, and it's easy enough that anyone can do it. It sold out at the 2024 BIMF (Busan International Magic Festival) with rave reviews from everyone! It's a really fun, easy, and powerful magic trick!

Key Features

- Very easy
- Easy to carry around
- Really exciting and powerful
- You can get everyone's attention as soon as you pull out the stone
- Very beautiful to display
- Intuitive, so anyone can understand it without any background knowledge
- Incredibly mysterious, but also very practical