

Handkerchief Illusion by TCC

A set of four handkerchiefs where playing card patterns are revealed.

The handkerchief, a symbol of magical elegance, takes on a new role in the Handkerchief Illusion, becoming a canvas of wonder on which the chosen playing card pattern materializes.

The magician presents a black handkerchief with a white frame in the center. Guiding the audience member to fold and secure it with a rubber band, the magician then places the bundle in a glass. The audience is invited to freely choose a playing card, remember it, and place it on the table.

As the handkerchief is unfurled, the intricate pattern of the chosen playing card materializes within the white frame. Simultaneously, the pips on the playing card resting on the table mysteriously vanish.

The effect is a harmonious blend of simplicity and magic, transforming the handkerchief into a canvas of playing cards.

The included handkerchiefs feature patterns of three different cards, which can also be used as revelations in parlor or stage performances.
