

Chapter Three - Pokerdeck

Produced by EmilySleights52, Chapter Three is the final deck within the Chapter Series! When I came up with the Chapter decks, the concept of "Writing your own story" came into my mind. If you're familiar at all with my decks, I typically like the design to have an underlying theme of strength, hope, perseverance and positivity. Because of this, in the Chapter decks I liked the symbolism that everybody is the author of their own life and I wanted to incorporate that into an elegant, minimalistic deck of cards geared toward magicians and collectors.

Manufactured by WJPC, Chapter Three Playing Cards will be printed using 300g Germany black core paper with butter varnishing. Since I began handling this stock a while ago, it became my new favorite stock! I get compliments so often of people telling me, "Hey, you know your deck "Bloom Sapphire"? It handles amazing!" I personally love that it dribbles, spreads and fans so easily.

- Two-way back design
- Recolored standard courts: Green (All are holding a feathered, calligraphy pen)
- 3 Jokers: 2 new identical and 1 with a double reveal (6 of Diamonds/9 of Diamonds)
- Double backer
- White border

The tuck for Chapter Three beautifully and elegantly showcases the back design while the top, bottom and side of the tuck resemble pages in a book. The exquisite ink well and fountain pen stand out on the front. The classic, "Write your own story," phrase is on the spine.
