

Obliter8 2.0 by Wayne Fox & TCC Magic

Wayne Fox's iconic 8-ball routine Obliter8, has long been out of stock. But now, it finally returns in its 2.0 version, produced by TCC Team.

Visually squeeze an 8 ball and return it to the card case.

A spectator chooses a card from the deck, and you surprise them by dropping an 8-ball out of a card case, landing in their hands, revealing the selected card's identity. However, the 8-ball is too large to fit back in the case. You then visually compress the solid 8-ball and slide it back into the card box, leaving the audience amazed.

This unexpected but logical climax to the classic 8-ball effect delivers a unique visual impact and is highly interactive and entertaining. The entire performance engages the audience fully, whether in a walkaround or theater show, ensuring a lasting impression.

It's incredibly easy to use, making it accessible for almost anyone to perform immediately.

Obliter8 2.0 is crafted with high-quality resin molding and carefully selected paint for a realistic feel.
