

Can Brass

The magician shows a can with a lid on. He removes the lid and drops in a lit match so that fire shoots out. He immediately covers the can with a lid putting off the fire.

After a few moments the lid is removed, and the tube is found to be filled with colorful items. The magician produces silks, streamers, flowers etc. After some productions he tips the can over a tumbler and pours down water.

He empties it (at least that is what the spectators think), and again produces some more objects. Finally, as if that was not enough, he pours again water from the can leaving everybody speechless.

- Easy to do, high impact magic.
- The tube is cm 16 (in. 6) tall and has a diameter of cm 8 (in. 3).
