

The Watcher Playing Cards

Designed by Adrian Valenzuela, the artist of the Memento Mori and Sirius B, here come his brand new project: The Watchers!

The guardians are there, they have always been and always will be, they don't judge, they don't try to correct our path, they just watch, waiting for our evolution, waiting for us to develop new abilities, to discover wonders until the end of times. The polygons represent the abstract way we all are, the sharp decisions that we make, the solid walls that we build and the stability that we accomplish with time. The yellow tones represent the path that we're in, the first steps to our future, this is the beginning, and they are Watching.
