

Sucker Card Vanish Box

The magician shows a box with two doors that he opens to show it empty inside. In one of the two compartments he puts a playing card and closes the doors. He tilts the box to the right, saying that the card has disappeared and opens the door on the left to show this. Then he tilts the box to the left and opens the door on the right. And so on several times. The audience is not impressed as each time the magician tilts the box, they see the card slide from one side to the other. At the end however the magician opens both doors and there will be no trace of the card!

- Very easy to perform.
- Ideal for parlor or stage performances.
- The box, made of wood, measures 22.5 cm (8,85") x 8 (3,14") x 4 (1,57").
- Perfect for any type of audience, loved by children.
- If you want, at the end, you can produce the card from your pocket or another desired place.
