

Strato Ball Vanish

The illusionist shows a tube on which three colored dots are depicted. He lifts the tube and inside there is another tube, transparent, which contains three balls of the same colors as the dots. The performer collects the balls and covers the transparent tube with another. He inserts the balls in the order represented by the dots: first green, then yellow and finally red. Magic gesture and when lifting the external tube the balls will be seen stacked in a different order: red, green and yellow.

The illusionist repeats the effect a second time, however achieving the same result. So, he tries a third time but with a variation. The red ball is placed in a wooden box. Magic gesture and from the box the ball disappears and reappears in the tubes, stacked in the correct order!

A classic, always loved.
