

Instant Magician Dress

The magician invites a spectator to help him and claims that he will make him, instantly, a magician! The fundamental thing to be a good illusionist, and to be able to implement the appropriate skills, is the dress. Then the magician shows a suit in which he dresses the spectator...The magician stands behind the spectator and slips his arms into the jacket sleeves. In this way he will be able to make the spectator become a magician, performing various simple magic tricks (with the objects previously placed into the bag that will now be taken from the jacket pocket)! The audience will be very amused to see the spectator apparently performing a little magic show for them!

- Classic effect, always a huge hit with the audience.
- One size fits all. The jacket has three pockets: two on the hips and one breast pocket.
- Jacket only is supplied (without instructions, since the use is obvious). The various tricks for the spectator to perform are not included and you can decide which you prefer yourself according to your presentation: stiff rope - milk mug - colour changing silk - colour changing feather - vanishing silk - egg bag - vanishing/appearing cane - color changing wand - etc.
