

Floating Currency

The magician rests a banknote flat on the palm of his hands. He concentrates, and mysteriously the bill starts to slowly rise up, and float several centimeters above his outstretched hand. Another banknote is even passed below and waved above the floating one to show that there are no threads.

A small close up miracle that you will always carry around with you.

- The secret can be used to float other small objects.
- Full instructions supplied.
- Very easy to do