"Genuinely love this! My type of visual magic. Right up my street. It's more ingenious than you think! You will love it!"

- Angelo Carbone

"Amongst all of the card tricks, coin vanishes and reading of minds, I'm betting your audience will remember one thing more and that is when you sliced your finger off. I love this!"

- Marc Spelmann

Stitch slices through fingers and nerves of steel, leaving your spectators queasy, anxious, and loving every moment! This mind-bending close-up illusion by Titanas is an illusion that delivers shock and awe at your fingertips and straight THROUGH it!

Imagine this: You present a simple tube and two sharp blades, all fully examinable by your audience. You place your finger inside the tube, and you deliberately slide the first then second blade through, slicing your finger cleanly in two.

And if that wasn't enough, you physically pull your finger off your hand, leaving your spectators disgusted in how much they love it. Just when they think they've seen it all, you reverse the process, restoring your lost finger-and their lost minds - back to one piece.

This isn't just a trick; it's a masterful illusion that pushes the boundaries of close-up magic. Stitch by Titanas combines the drama of large-scale illusions with the intimacy of close-up performance, so that your spectators experience every shocking moment, up close and personal.

From the mind of Titanas, the genius behind the hit sensation Titan's Finger, comes yet another masterpiece in the realm of bizarre finger magic.

You cut, you break, they shiver, they shake. Self-mutilation has never been so satisfying! Welcome to Stitch by Titanas.
