

Visual Feathers

The magician displays three feathers, each of a different color. As he passes his hand over the first feather, its color changes. The same thing happens with the second and third feather.

The color change is instantaneous and may be performed by touching the feathers with a silk of the color that is going to appear, or even with empty hands.