

Bicycle - Paradox by Vincenzo Di Fatta

Spread a deck of cards on the table face down on the table. Ask a spectator to select any one of them, without looking at it. Open a small wallet and show that it contains your prediction, a face down card. Slip the chosen card face down in the compartment next to your prediction, then proudly announce that your prediction is correct because it has exactly the same back as the chosen card! The spectators will obviously start to protest asking you to show the faces of the two cards. Incredibly when you turn them around also the faces match perfectly! For a final devastating climax you then turn the whole deck face up and show that the cards are all the same, but different from the other two. A perfect prediction!

- The trick was devised by Vincenzo Di Fatta.
- The cards supplied are poker size bicycle cards.
- The wallet is made of good plastic. Closed it measures 7 cm (l) x 0.4 (h) x 10.4 (w).

NOTE: The value of the cards may differ from those shown in the video and photos.
