

larvel Pad - Bühnentrick

The larvel pad is a special clipboard with built-in electronics. You put paper on this (it can be several sheets). Then you ask the spectator to think about something and – for verification for later – to write and / or draw the thought “something” on the paper. All this information can be followed in real time on your own phone or tablet using the free app.

Obviously, you have the piece of paper removed from the board and put away so that it is impossible to know what the spectator drew or wrote. Then you focus on the spectator and verbally reveal what the spectator has in mind.

Of course you use your own phone or tablet, we do not include this.

Important information:

- The clipboards (17 x 10,7 x 0,8 cm) have a professional wooden look.
- The paper on the clipboards (16 x 9,5 cm) is included but you can use any normal paper.
- All information appears on your phone in real time without delay.
- Works for IOS and Android.
- You can place multiple sheets of paper on the board (up to 5-7 mm in total).
- You can set the writing thickness via the app so that you can clearly read what has been drawn or written.
- Reception up to 10 meters.
- Charging with the included USB Cable.

You receive:

- 1 special clipboard with electronics.
- Special pen (no charging required).
- A starting stock of paper.
- USB cable.
- Online video instructions.
