

Final Destination by Michael O'Brien

Final Destination

is a travel themed confabulation style routine that fits right in your pocket for walk around and plays BIG on stage! What is a confabulation routine you may ask? In its simplest form, the audience makes a series of choices that are revealed to have all been predicted ahead of time. In Final Destination, the spectator is asked to choose an airline, origin city, and destination city from a set of digital media at random. You reveal that a boarding pass that has been in plain view since the start predicts every choice the spectator makes! Easy and incredibly fun to perform!

What all do you receive with this set?

You will learn three variations on the main "Final Destination" routine as well as bonus ideas to turn this single effect into a multi layered travel themed routine!

Set Includes:

- 6 boarding passes + digital copies
- 50 digital postcards
- 15 digital airline adverts
- Bonus Templates to customize your own postcards and boarding passes!
