

Nana's Necklace (Black) by Dean Dill

For years a long-discontinued item but sought after by the many, here is the exact and latest version of Dean Dill's classic trick, "Nana's Necklace" aka "Grandmother's Necklace."

Three attractive wooden beads are strung onto the center of two solid velvet cords. The spectator is asked to put his hand out and grasp the three beads in his fist. The spectator holds onto the three beads and the magician ties two of the ends around their hand. The ends of the cords are taken by the Magi and are pulled straight up penetrating through both the spectator's closed fist and the wooden beads. Another miracle has occurred!

From Dean's original description, "In the past, this trick had to be set up ahead of time in order to pull it off successfully. Now, you can do this over and over again, setting it up right in front of the spectators. You can even let them help you string the beads onto the cords. This is major breakthrough and has been confirmed by reputable sources."

Although copied by the many, this is an official re-release of the original Dean Dill Nana's Necklace.

Comes complete with 2 velvet cords (available in red or black), 3 wooden beads, a velvet bag for everyday carry, a custom wooden storage box with Dean's laser etched logo. Includes PDF detailed original instructions of Dean's handling of his favorite close-up act, also handling tips video by Alan Wong.

Produced by Alan Wong to the exact specifications of Dean Dill's original and endorsed by the Dill family.

"I am very honored to have the approval by the Dill family to re-release Dean's Nana's Necklace. This was his first magic gift to me when we met in his shop, and this meant a whole lot to me."
